Almus, Inc. Sells Remaining Share of e-fingo

PHOENIX -- Almus, Inc. this afternoon sold it's remaining shares in e-fingo.com Corporation, the Internet and retail store business that was established early this year. As part of the agreement, Almus will retain the e-commerce portion of the business and e-fingo will keep the retail stores. Originally, it was intended to relinquish all assets of e-fingo, but it was later decided to keep the e-commerce portion as part of future growth for the company.

The new president of e-fingo.com Corporation is Jesus Zurita and he has assumed all responsibilities of the company effective immediately.
